

Martha L. Tipton Becomes Bride of Theodore Kenyon

Miss Sally Walsh To Be Married to Belmont F. Beverly on Saturday at Her Home, in Monticello

Miss Martha Louise Tipton, daughter of Edward A. Tipton, of Lexington, Ky., was married at noon yesterday in St. Thomas's Church to Theodore Stanwood Kenyon, of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Lloyd S. Leach, the assistant rector of the church, and a wedding breakfast and reception followed at the Hotel Gotham. The bride was in a gown of white satin and lace, wore a tulle veil and carried white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley. She was attended by Mrs. Frederick Tomkins of New York, Miss Elizabeth Ewen of Saginaw, Mich., Miss Martha Shanklin of Lexington, Miss Mary Elizabeth Johnson and Miss Dorothy Kenyon, both of this city.

William Houston Kenyon, Jr., served as his brother's best man, and the ushers were Edward D. Tipton, Tracy S. Voorhees, Edward Bromley, Lemuel Skidmore, Benjamin F. McGuckin and George R. Kenyon.

Mr. Kenyon was a captain in the 30th Infantry, Seventy-seventh Division and received the D. S. C. for gallantry in action.

The marriage of Miss Grace Leavenworth, Wheeler, niece of Miss Laura Wheeler, of 61 E. 37th Street, to Dr. William James Leavenworth, of this city, took place yesterday in the chapel of the Brick Presbyterian Church. The bride was in a gown of white satin and lace, and was attended by her sister, Mrs. Wheeler. The groom was in a tuxedo and was attended by his brother, Dr. James Leavenworth. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. James Leavenworth.

Dr. Barnes and his bride will go to China, where he will engage in medical missionary work.

Miss Sally Walsh will be married to Belmont F. Beverly of New York Saturday at her home in Monticello, N. Y. Mr. Beverly was a captain in the famous Ninety-sixth Aero Squadron and is the only man in the first all-American bombing raid who lived to see active service throughout the rest of the war. He received his commission after the St. Mihiel drive and was recommended for the D. S. C. for saving the lives of two of his officers at the risk of his own. He also was recommended for a commission as major, but the signing of the armistice prevented that promotion. At that time Mr. Beverly was in command of the 100th Aero Squadron. He recently received a citation for bravery from General Pershing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harrah are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter recently in their home, 156 East Seventy-third Street. The child was Miss Maude Gwynne Harrah, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Harrah, with whom Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harrah will spend the summer at Narragansett. Mr. Harrah's brother, Major William E. Harrah, is expected to arrive in Boston to-day from France.

Miss Helen Taft has arrived in town from Bryn Mawr and is at the Hotel Chatham.

The Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Shipman will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Duncan at Newport over the Fourth and the week-end.

Prince and Princess Michel Murat and the Princess's brother-in-law and sister, Prince and Princess Francescospogliosi, who have apartments at the Ritz-Carlton, leave there to-day for Lake Placid in the Adirondacks, where they will spend the Fourth and the week-end. The Prince and Princess Murat gave a dinner last night at the Ritz.

Mr. and Mrs. Amory S. Carhart arrived in the city yesterday from Tuxedo and are at the Ritz-Carlton.

Colonel and Mrs. Robert M. Thompson will leave town to-day for Saratoga, where they will be guests of E. Clarence Jones for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Miller, who were married in April, are guests of Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, at Shadow Brook, Lenox.

Mrs. Francis Burke Roche has gone to Jericho, Long Island, where she is a guest for a few days of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Scott Burden, before going to Newport.

Dr. W. H. Morgan Marries Mrs. Harriet Merritt

Mrs. Harriet Chalmers Merritt was married yesterday in New Rochelle to the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

Your Town

IN ONE year nearly 25,000,000 people make use of the recreation facilities in the Borough of Manhattan, according to the latest available figures. William J. Lee, supervisor of the Bureau of Parks, has under his care forty-nine playgrounds, eight recreation piers and seven gymnasiums. The largest playground is the North Meadow in Central Park, of thirty acres, while the smallest is the Abington Square playground, which is only seven-hundredths of an acre in area.

The most popular sports at the forty-nine playgrounds are baseball, tennis, basketball and soccer. One tournament conducted by the bureau at the playground drew an attendance of over 200,000.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William Henry Morgan, for the last six years pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal Church, corner of 129th Street and Seventh Avenue.

Miss Kelly "Fond" Of Grecian King; Denies They'll Wed

Writes Uncle in New York That Alexander I Likes Her, but Reports of En- gagement Are Untrue

Josephine Marie Kelly, the American girl, who, according to Athens reports, is to become the bride of Alexander I, King of Greece, has written to her uncle in New York denying the rumor.

"I am extremely fond of his majesty, and he is a good companion of my own age, but there is nothing between us," she writes. Her uncle is William Hyland, owner of the Hotel Loraine and formerly manager of the Belmont Hotel.

Miss Kelly is about twenty-five years old. She has jet black hair and flashing black eyes and is of medium height. Her father, T. C. Kelly, a Chicago politician, died when she was very young. Her mother also is dead. She lived in a convent in Chicago until she was sixteen years old, when she went abroad to study. She returned after five years.

Miss Kelly went to Greece as a member of the Red Cross Bureau of Languages in Washington. When the United States entered the war she went to Washington as a stenographer for the Red Cross, but when she gained knowledge of languages she was sent abroad.

The King has received her in a formal and, she writes, but her association with him has not been restricted to the throne room. His favorite hobby is motoring, and she is an expert driver of an automobile. She and the King have taken long drives together, when she has been on his motor car.

He likes her, she says, because on such occasions she can talk on any subject, from "war to the annihilation of Athens."

In a letter to her uncle, she writes: "Alexander is a democratic man. His tastes are similar to hers, she writes. Before he came to the throne, in June, 1917, Alexander was known in Athens as a young man of letters. He is a Lincoln, Samuelson, heads of the firm, were arrested on bail awaiting trial. The indictments returned yesterday charge Samuelson, Samuelson and Rosenblum, with conspiring with Isaac Weinstein and Samuel Samuels, of the firm of Weinstein & Samuels, furriers, at 421 West Twenty-seventh Street; A. N. A. N. Levantini & Co., furriers, at 8 West Thirtieth Street, and Nathan Bloom, a woolen dealer, at 34 West Twenty-seventh Street, to file false returns with the merchants with Collector Edwards.

The indictment against Levantini charges his returns showed an income tax due of $12,126 instead of a sum of approximately $2,000 in taxes, whereas, according to the government accounts, says was due. The indictment against Bloom alleges that he attempted to defraud the government out of over $11,000 in taxes, and that against Weinstein and Samuels charges that the income of the partnership was manipulated so as to indicate that they made $14,942.28, whereas, according to the government, this income was approximately $35,000.

Levantini appeared at the Federal Building and surrendered himself. He established the business of a clerk until this morning, when he will plead and furnish bail. The books and files of more than a score of firms did business with the Sterling Company are being examined by government experts and additional indictments are expected this week.

Dr. Nagle Leaves Home
To Irish Society

The house at 132 East Sixteenth Street is bequeathed to the American-Irish Historical Society, of which J. I. C. Clark is president, under the will of the late Dr. John T. Nagle, which was offered for probate in the Surrogate's Court yesterday.

The will, according to the will, is to be known as the Dr. John T. Nagle Memorial Hall, and a tablet is to be erected at its entrance explaining that it is a memorial to Doctor Nagle, his wife, mother, father and other relatives.

In addition Doctor Nagle bequeathed the sum $50,000 to be used in the furtherance of his aims and purposes. He left books relating to Ireland and a number of personal papers. The trustees of the society are at liberty to sell the Sixteenth Street property and locate elsewhere if that site is not agreeable.

Further bequests included $2,500 to the New York Academy of Medicine; $2,500 each to the New York Athletic Club and the Irish Regiment for the purchase of medals for any purpose they see fit; $5,000 to St. Vincent's Hospital; $1,000 to St. Vincent de Paul; and $1,000 to the Irish World. Doctor Nagle also left $100 each to Robert E. Ford, editor of "The Irish World," and John Devoy, editor of "The Gaelic American."

The bulk of the estate is approximately $250,000.

Says Eddy Deed Was Called "Scrap of Paper"

BOSTON, July 1.—Lamont Howlands, of Providence, Miss., one of the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society, testifying to-day at the master's hearing of the suit of the trustees against the Board of Directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, said that the directors had stated in substance that the trust deed by which Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy established the publishing society was a "mere scrap of paper."

The witness testified also that he had been informed that the directors said that the estate of Mrs. Eddy had been depleted to the extent of $25,000 or $30,000 a year through the methods used by the society in publishing her works.

Mr. Dittmore, who was a member of the board of directors until deposed by the other directors last March, is chairman of the board of trustees appointed by the New Hampshire courts to administer the residue of Mrs. Eddy's estate, amounting to more than $250,000.

Mr. Streeter said that for some years Mrs. Eddy's works were published by the trustees of her estate, who consisted, in addition to Mr. Dittmore, of the other four directors of the First Church. During that time, he said, the residuary fund annually had yielded a large income. In October, 1917, these trustees resigned and the publishing society to publish the works for twenty-seven years.

It was agreed, Mr. Streeter said, that the cost of publication should not be more than $10,000 a year to the trustees. He asserted that, in spite of this agreement, Mrs. Eddy's estate had been "milked out" by the publishing society.

Iowa Is Ninth State
To Ratify Suffrage

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 2.—Iowa today became the ninth state to ratify the Susan B. Anthony suffrage amendment to the Federal Constitution. The measure, which was passed by a unanimous vote of the Iowa Legislature, was approved by a vote of 5 to 4 in favor of it. The ratification was completed shortly after noon, the entire session lasting only one hour.

Other states which have ratified the amendment include Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Massachusetts, Kansas, New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio.

A Soldier Says—

SERGEANT C. J. CREVELING, of the Air Service, fears for the future of the country now that John Barleycorn is dead and 2.75 per cent beer seems to be tottering. "There is nothing uniform in America, for there is nothing uniform in Europe," he said, "I hate to think of the country when prohibition has been in existence for a year."

In spite of all the freedom in France and with beer being sold everywhere, said the sergeant, "you rarely saw a soldier drunk. I don't mind the law against serving soldiers with beer in America, for there is nothing uniform in America, for there is nothing uniform in Europe," he said, "I hate to think of the country when prohibition has been in existence for a year."

Then to show that he was sincere about drinks for soldiers in America, Sergeant Creveling disposed of a large glass of coca-cola.

Give a Thought to— The Hub of The Bronx

HUNDREDS and sometimes thousands of residents of the Bronx are crowded to stand in all kinds of weather while waiting for their cars at the intersection of East 149th Street and Third Avenue, known to all Bronxites as the "Hub."

At that point the Third Avenue "L" sends hundreds overhead to the Tremont and Fordham sections and at the same time discharges on an average of 10,000 to 15,000 people a day, with transfers, down five stairways to the street below.

No less than six streetcar lines reach the "Hub," each from a different direction, and it is here also that the subway receives and discharges passengers.

Traffic is always congested at the "Hub," and it is here also that the "Hub" is the center of the branch offices of a Manhattan daily yesterday. "Something should be done to protect the people from the elements at this point, and the traffic police on duty there should be added to. Conditions always are extremely bad about 6 o'clock morning and evening."

Mr. Gerard's deposition, for the main part, reiterated what he has written in books and magazine articles and stated on the stand.

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer as "an anarchist."

Mr. Kirkland asked Mr. Blake a number of questions to show that he was familiar with Mr. Ford's pacifist utterances, with President Wilson's speeches and with the public generally. He was then asked to state why he approved the characterization of the manufacturer